

Large Language Models (LLMs) are neural networks trained in self-supervision on a huge amount of data.

Generally, a transformer architecture

Imagine a huge portion of the Web